

FRENTE · 1 / 12

1

fake news

FRENTE · 2 / 12

2

a reliable source

FRENTE · 3 / 12

3 clickbait

FRENTE · 4 / 12

4

headline

VERSO

1

False information presented as news, with the aim of misleading readers.

VERSO

2

A source that can be trusted: it names its author, date and evidence.

VERSO

3

A tempting headline designed mainly to make you click, often exaggerated.

VERSO

4

The title or opening line of an article that summarises the story.

FRENTE · 5 / 12

5

to verify (a claim)

FRENTE · 6 / 12

6

bias

FRENTE · 7 / 12

7 cyberbullying

FRENTE · 8 / 12

8

echo chamber

VERSO

5

Check something carefully against evidence before believing or sharing it.

VERSO

6

A preference that slants how facts are chosen and presented.

VERSO

7

Repeated online harassment: hurtful messages or posts aimed at one person.

VERSO

8

A space where you mainly meet opinions you already agree with.

FRENTE · 9 / 12

9

to spread misinformation

FRENTE · 10 / 12

10

fact-checking

FRENTE · 11 / 12

11

digital footprint

FRENTE · 12 / 12

12

to report (content)

VERSO

9

Share false information, often without realising that it is false.

VERSO

10

The process of checking claims against reliable evidence.

VERSO

11

The trail of data you leave online: posts, searches, photos and location.

VERSO

12

Tell the platform that a post or account breaks the rules.